RippleMatch has been an incredible asset in expanding the diversity of schools and candidates we reach. Their software helps us sort through all the noise and win over the best candidates on each campus. They have been an extension of my team for over a year now, and I wouldn't be nearly as successful without them.

ROIVANT'S GOAL

Roivant had a small campus recruiting team, but wanted to build a rotational analyst program full of the brightest undergrads studying finance, math, and science. In order to get there, they needed to carefully target the right candidates and build a brand that could outcompete top tier investment banks and consulting firms.

ROIVANT'S SOLUTION

Roivant used RippleMatch to drive event attendance, extend their reach to more schools, and win over the top 1% of candidates on each campus. This year, they expanded their RippleMatch subscription knowing that they could visit fewer campuses, build a lasting brand, and improve the quality and diversity of their hiring pipeline.
